The Wanamaker Store

The Fur Exhibit Continues

YESTERDAY we invited New York to the fur store's reception. It continues, and the invitation is repeated. Decorations are expected at a formal reception—in this one they are made up of magnificent examples of the taxidermist's skill. So natural and fine are the poses that some of the pieces have served as models for sculptors.

The window at Broadway and Tenth is worth studying. It contains no show pieces, but is filled entirely with garments from the fur store, and handsome rugs from the third-floor rug store. These floor-pieces are choice skins with the animal's head mounted.

Furs in a dry-goods store. Hundreds saw the exhibit yesterday and were surprised. Yet possibly one in five of the visitors has been a purchaser of furs here during the past three years, and has full reason to know the excellence of the pieces we sell. It simply required some such exhibit as this to fully show the scope of the business and the extent of the stocks at our command—and yours.

The fur-rug store, third floor, is new.

The fur-garment store, second floor, is better known than ever.

Yesterday's fur news read as though all the pieces cost hundreds or thousands of dollars. Plenty of those sumptuous pieces; plenty of these as well, though of some very special lots only a few garments—

Sealskin Coats, $150.
Tan cloth Driving Coat, squirrel lined, Persian lamb collar, $100.
Persian lamb Coats, $225 and $250.
Neck Scarfs, Hudson Bay sable, $65.
Collarettes of Alaska seal, $60.
Collarettes of stone marten, $40; of lynx, at $20.
Cloth Garments, squirrel lined, for carriage wear, $45 to $75.

Other Notable Exhibitions Are Opened

The Stewart Laces from the Period of the Second Empire

Among the stocks of merchandise transferred to us when we came into possession of the A. T. Stewart store was a collection of exquisite hand-made laces. With the laces came the allegation that they were owned by the beautiful Empress Eugenie, supreme ruler in the realm of fashion, forty years ago. After the fall of the Second Empire they found their way into the market-place, where Mr. Stewart discovered them.

We know that Mr. Stewart bought them many years ago; that they are essentially of the period alluded to, and that they are really exquisite specimens of hand lace-making, known among connoisseurs as the Stewart collection.

These laces are for sale; some have been sold.

Antique Clocks—Made between 1643 and 1814

Clocks are almost modern—the Greeks and Romans had only the sun-dial, and to record the hours they used the clepsydra, which allowed water or fine sand to trickle or run from one receptacle to another. Clocks with notched wheels were invented about 950 A. D., but the oldest clocks in our collection were made about the time of the adoption of the pendulum—clocks of the periods of Louis XIV, Louis XV and Louis XVI, and of the Empire.

The Tissot Pictures

There has been a constant stream of visitors to the little Salon on Fifth floor where we have hung faithful reproductions of M. Tissot's pictures of the earth-walks of the Christ. The original paintings have been seen by hundreds of thousands. These reproductions are practically full size (the Tissot pictures are not large). There are over one hundred. Dore is surpassed in the work of this disciple-art.

Two Book Stores Until Christmas

The Wanamaker book store is just like the biggest big book store you ever knew—but busier. Every new book is here on the very day of its publication—every other book that's fit to read is here every day.

The charm? Why, Wanamaker was the inventor of fair book prices. From now until Christmas two book stores—the branch is just across Ninth street—74 E. Ninth. All the facilities—a lot of extra room.

Bibles at 25¢—quite the best edition and with more help than usual in a book so low in price. Good print. Chronological History, Miracles, Parables, lists of Weights, Measures, Coins, Animals, Geology and Geography of Bible Lands. Both stores, of course.

Arguments are unnecessary—everybody worth while knows that Type-writers are a necessity in this day. There is the Wanamaker-Wellington (visible writing) at $60, and then the other good kinds at $100 or thereabouts. You'll wonder how the high prices are justified, when you've looked at the matter carefully. Not on merit alone. Basement.

Dress Goods as Christmas Gifts

Sometimes it is hard to be thankful—if the Christmas season has been looked forward to as a time when there may be a little more put into the empty life, and the gifts that come are merely fol-de-rols. So Christmas after Christmas we almost urge you to buy dress goods, or stuff for good warm petticoats, or skirt or wrapper made up.

And any of these things look gift-like enough when put up in the neat boxes we have ready, or prettily banded. It is not alone to those in abject poverty that sensible gifts bring most joy.

10 yards of newest Percale for $1.25.
10 yards of Seersucker for $1.
10 yards of Dress Gingham for $2.
Those we've told of are neatly banded and tied.
Dress patterns in boxes—with needed trimming, $2.50 to $5.50.

Shoe Bargains for Women

Three hundred and forty women may share this good fortune—if early comers do not take more than a pair apiece—$2.50 Shoes at $1.25. Black kidskin, some with cloth tops. All lengths as we write; widths B and C. Rather narrow toes.

Women's $3.50 Calfskin Shoes at $2.35; full round toe; good stout soles—in a word, just such winter shoes as you'd likely pick from a dozen styles. Less to pay while these hold out. That's all.

Men's $9.99 for gifts—nine sorts at 90¢ instead of $1.50. Leather—brown and black. Fifth floor.

Scores of styles in the regular shoe store.

Don't forget, the Boy wants Rubber Boots for Christmas. We've tried to lay in enough. First floor.

Several years ago we determined to sell better shirts at a dollar than a man could find anywhere else. We are doing it—to-day's perfection possible because the excellence of the first attempts won friends who stood firm. It was only by making a large business of this item that economies came—and economies had to come, if we were to sell better shirts than you had known at the price.

White shirts, laundered. Open front, open back, open back-and-front. Long bosoms and short. Comfort.

$1 a shirt.
